Steenerson Saved the Game by a Pretty Kick.

Once more our annual game with Western Maryland has come and gone and again the goddess victory has furred her wings and alighted on the Buff and Blue standards. That the game was hotly contested goes without saying, our game with our friend the enemy from Westminster always is. But that the result should have been achieved in almost identically the same manner as last year, and that Capt. Benjamin should have been the man to top off the affair on both occasions is rather remarkable.

The ardent supporters of the team (who on Saturday, when the team was being rushed off their feet and most needed encouragement, were so spell-bound that they were incapable of uttering a sound, and who at a moment when any extra noise was apt to cause confusion in the signals, shouted uproariously) will remember that last year the game was snatched out of the fire by a touch-down, followed immediately by a difficult goal by Steenerson. Saturday, with but 5 minutes to play a brace, like last year's, bobbed up and this time it was through the medium of a field goal that Steenerson brought victory to his team. History repeats itself in football as well as elsewhere, that goes for certain.

We kicked off to Maryland and soon held them for downs. Their punt was taken care of and the ball was ours near the center of the field. After a couple of short gains, Sutton got away for a 30-yard dash and then Western Maryland held. On the third down, Sutton fell back and dropped a pretty goal from the field. Only 5 minutes played and 4 to nothing! It looked easy.

Maryland kicked to the Buff and Blue, and it was our turn to punt, after three unsuccessful ground gaining attempts. After the exchange of a few courtesies in the fumbling line, the Orange and Green started a march for our line that was not to be denied, and a touchdown soon followed. Attempt at goal failed. G. W., 4; Western Maryland, 5. Neither team had any decided advantage from this point until the end of the half.

Maryland kicked to us at the beginning of the second. The ball changed hands once or twice near the center of the field, and then the future ministers started another march in our direction. Not until the ten-yard line had been reached were they stopped, but that was their expiring effort. The ball was rushed to their 15-yard line where they managed to hold us temporarily. But "Steenie" resolved not to bother about the formality of a touchdown, so put one between the bars without more delay. G. W. 8; Western Maryland, 5. The game ended with the oval in their possession.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

First and foremost, such spirit as was exhibited on Van Ness field Saturday evening will seldom be witnessed anywhere, even at George Washington. To say that it was a disgrace is putting it in honeyed terms. The team was up against a hard proposition. The students knew it. Fully 200 of them were assembled along the side lines, like a lot of Gallaudet enthusiasts, except for the fact that they didn't

George Washington Medical Society.

The George Washington University Medical Society held the opening meeting of its second session Saturday evening, October 20th, in the Medical Building.

President Needham made a very interesting and instructive address. The scientific program was followed by an informal smoker that proved as successful as those of last year.

The Society was organized October 21, 1905, with a charter membership of 111; twenty-one new members were admitted at the annual meeting in May, making a total membership of 132.

The high class work being done by the Society entitles it to a prominent place among the medical societies of the District of Columbia.

Officers of the Society are:

President—J. W. Chappell.
Vice-President—H. T. A. Lemon.
Secretary—D. W. Prentiss.
Treasurer—L. H. Taylor

Council—

1st year—Thos. A. Groover.

4th year—H. C. Yarrow.
5th year—A. B. Hooe.

Intercollegiate Debate.

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Debating Council, Thursday, October 25, the question of the date for the debate with Cincinnati was considered at length, and it was decided to make another effort to hold the contest early in January. It is desired to hold this debate first because it is felt that the opportunity for a trip to Cincinnati with all expenses paid will probably draw out a large number of contestants. In case this early date is agreed upon, the question will be submitted by Cincinnati immediately and the preliminaries will be held within the next two or three weeks.

Letters have been addressed to Georgetown regarding a debate, but for some reason or other that institution has failed to reply.

Vance McCormick, mayor of Harrisburg, Pa., is to assist in drilling the punters on the Yale squad.

Randolph-Macon.

The game with West Virginia has been cancelled and Randolph-Macon will be played on Van Ness field instead. Randolph-Macon has a strong team this year, as shown by her record. Her game with Washington and Lee was 4 to 8, and W. & L. came very near beating Georgetown last Saturday. R. M. defeated Richmond College 6 to 0, whom Virginia defeated last Saturday 12 to 6. So it can be seen that there will be a good game Saturday. Come out and do some rooting.

make as much noise. Western Maryland was ahead and full of confidence. "Of course, the boys encouraged our team by their rooting," you say. Did they? Well, I guess! With two thousand, three hundred and fifty-eight patent Morley ear drums and a pair of abnormally sharp ears, a faint suspicion of a whisper weight have been detected, but that is doubtful. As for cheering, well, let's say no more about it. It was disgusting. There's no other way to put it. And for goodness sake don't let it happen again. We've got a team this year and it must be supported. Don't hesitate to let your voice out for fear of being unable to sing in church the next day.

"Steve" Lorando and Gunning certainly put up cracking good games at the ends of the line. And they are improving every day.

Lacaroni played a strong game at fullback. He's another hard worker.

Beard's dodging (when he had the ball) was something clever.

The Western Maryland team played a hard game, but they ought never to have scored. Their touch-down resulted from a fumble on the last down which rolled over the line and was fallen on by one of their men.

The feature of the game was our fumbling.

The forward pass worked fairly well now and then, but is evidently unreliable.

Sommers distinguished himself by his consistent gains every time he was given the ball. He is one of the best ground gainers on the team.

Mr. Suter is the best referee that has ever been on the field. He is absolutely fair and certain.

Law Notes.

Another honor has come to the faculty of the Law Department in the appointment of Dean Vance to the position of Secretary of the American Association of Law Schools. This Association includes practically all of the best law schools of the country, sixty-four in number, and strives to set a high standard in all American Law

Schools and to insure efficient and honest work. At the present time George Washington University has the only law school in the District which is a member of the Association since Georgetown has lately resigned.

The Department of Politics and Diplomacy is being reorganized and its work enlarged by Prof. C. W. A. Veditz, the Acting Dean. For some time Dr. Veditz has been outfitting his office preparatory to getting to work in this promising field. Not that a great deal has not already been accomplished by this branch of the University, but that the tremendous value of the geographical position of Washington for extensive work in this line is being fully recognized. All of those interested in the consular service or in fact any branch of jurisprudence which is comprehended in the Department of Politics and Diplomacy are urged to visit the Acting Dean and talk over the work with him. Dr. Veditz is very sanguine of doubling the enrollment of the school next year.

The Junior Class had an eighty-seconds or three-quarter minute class meeting on Saturday and adopted in record time the constitutional amendment looking to earlier organization for next year. November 10th was the day finally set for the smoker and over fifty of the class will be on hand to meet each other again socially and get a line on some of the new "profs" with whose subjects they have been blessed this year.

Personals.

Tom McNamee, '06, is practising law in Pierre, South Dakota.

Adam Beeler, '06, is practising law in Indiana and it is rumored that he is making a strong fight to butt into the State Congress in the Hoosier State.

Edward L. Reed and Clair Fairbank are practising patent law, the former in Ohio, the latter in New York City.

Swarthmore held a big celebration after the victory over Pennsylvania. For the first time in four years the students were granted a special holiday.

Needham Debating Society.

As a pleasant diversion from political, economic and social topics, the Society, last Friday evening, discussed an industrial question, i. e., "Resolved that National Expositions do not benefit the countries in which they are held."

The affirmative maintained that the circumstances surrounding the expositions of other days no longer exist, that books, magazines and newspapers now keep the public informed of every movement along the highway of progress, and that the modern World's Fair entails needless expense, offers little that is novel and is fast becoming monotonous. They also attacked the policy of the Government in subsidizing such projects.

The negative, refuting these statements, declared that actual demonstration was more valuable and effective than mere reading, emphasized the educational benefits of expositions and contended that by advertising the opportunities lying dormant in undeveloped territory and certain infant industries, they contributed materially to the advancement of the nation.

The judges decided in favor of the negative, awarding first and second honors to Messrs. Jones and Schommer, respectively.

Next week the Society will discuss that vital, up-to-date question, "Resolved that the referendum should be more generally adopted by the several States."

The University Congress.

For possibly the first time in its history, the University Congress gave a unanimous vote for a resolution at its last meeting. The question was "Resolved that it is the sense of this body that labor organizations benefit the laboring classes." Whether this vote was the result of the threatening attitude of organized labor toward those who opposed its ideas, none of the Congressmen would say.

The gentlemen from New Jersey and Arkansas, leaders for the resolution, argued that organization was necessary among laboring men and that it resulted in increased wages, shorter hours, the sanitation of factories and the care of aged and crippled union men, in homes and similar institutions, when their days of usefulness were over. All of the members speaking in the general discussion favored the resolution.

The "opposition" which mysteriously disappeared when the vote was taken was led by, and consisted of the gentlemen from New York and Hawaii, who contended that only a small percentage of laboring men were members of unions, that unions deprived their members of individual liberty to make contracts and that if the unions succeeded in raising the wages of its members, such increase resulted in an advanced cost of living for all workers, union or non-union.

Next week the Congress will discuss the General Appropriation Bill.

Sophomore Medical.

Among the new members of our class are: Paul Anderson, K. R. Glennan and John E. Linn, all three formerly at Georgetown Medical School, and Mr. Hoey, formerly at Baltimore Medical College.

The library is open every morning from 9 to 12, and from 3 to 5 every afternoon, and from 7.30 to 10 every evening. W. F. McLaughlin and J. M. Willis have charge of the library.

A. P. Clark has been initiated into the Sigma Chi.

Prof. Edwin Smith is a welcome member of our Bacteriology Class.

George Sharp has been appointed assistant demonstrator of anatomy to the Freshman Class by Dr. Murray.

The Sophomore Class is beginning to think the Freshmen have "cold feet." It is up to the Freshies to say something about football. The Sophs. are waiting.

Graduate Studies.

There are at present in the Faculty of Graduate Studies four candidates for Master of Arts degrees and seven for Master of Science. In the first division there are enrolled Miss Margaret Agnes McMahon, Mr. August Friedrich Wilhelm Edler, Mr. Angus McDonald Crawford and Mr. Daniel M. Walsh, while in the second there are Mr. Delos H. Smith, Mr. Walter Cox Taber, Mr. Walter M. Gilbert, Mr. George N. Coffrey, Mr. Edward H. Goodnow and Mr. Harry W. Houghton.

Miss Margaret A. McMahon won her Bachelor of Science degree from our University this last June at which time she stood one of the highest in her class. Miss McMahon is to be remembered by the excellent manner in which she read the 1906 Class Prophecy at the Class Night Exercises. Miss McMahon will take American History 42 as her major and English History 45 and Spanish 1 as her minors.

The Honor System.

Institutions differ in their methods of dealing with the problem of honesty on examinations. It is not questioned that an instructor has the right to supervise and watch closely those who are on examination, and one of our largest eastern universities rigidly adheres to such a custom, and at examinations details men to each room with instructions to watch each man closely. But every student with the proper ideal of manhood and honor resents such seeming distrust of his honesty and feels that his manhood is insulted. Such students, of course, need no watching, they can be left entirely alone, if the professor desires it. But it must be admitted that there are in every university students who will stoop to acts of dishonesty on examinations. This university was not free from them last year. For the acts of such students, the whole school suffers. Except a few no one knows who the individuals are; it is just known that cheating was done, and at once the public groups the honest with the dishonest, and makes no discrimination.

The faculty has abolished its supervision over examinations, a step that appeals to the highest principles of every honest student. But what of the small number who can not be reached by appeals to their honor? Are the honest students going to allow the reputation of all to suffer by the dishonesty of a few, when faculty supervision is relaxed? Every student, careful of his good name, resents such injustice. The remedy is in the students themselves; they must guard not only their individual honor, but that of the University. This is not accomplished by a policy of letting alone. An instance of cheating should not be allowed to go by with mere comments. We by no means advocate a system of student spying, but we do advocate that active and effective steps be taken by the students in every case of cheating or suspicion of cheating. The students can not do less, since the faculty has shown that it will trust to the honor of the student body; this throws the responsibility upon us. Especially should every suspicion of cheating be investigated, because often the suspicion is groundless, yet the suspected student, though innocent, may be branded with the stigma of dishonesty. No one more than he would wish such a suspicion to be cleared up. It is just as imperative that the more open and evident cases be dealt with, for the sake of the honest students, so that the dishonor may be confined to the guilty one and not attach also to the innocent.

Action toward this end can not be attained without some united action by the students or their representatives. Without a harmonious understanding of what will be done should such a case come up, one would hesitate to take any steps against a classmate whom he has associated with perhaps for three or four years.

Next week an outline of a plan for student supervision will be submitted. Any suggestions or plans will be gladly received and printed.

Subscribers, Notice.

Subscribers will confer a favor on the management by sending notice when the paper fails to come or arrives late. With the exception of the first issue, every issue has come out punctually on time, but it is known that some have received their papers several days late. We wish to discover who is at fault. If it is the Postoffice, we wish to have it remedied.

Rooting.

Something must be done in regard to cheering. There is no leader and no organization, consequently there is no rooting to brace up the team at the time it most needs it. Something must be done for the three important games to follow. We will feel chagrined to see the encouragement given to the other side on Thanksgiving contrasted with the lack of it on our side, unless some steps are taken to have some systematic rooting.

A yell leader should be elected, but if this is not done by the next game, let all students gather around those who volunteer to lead it and cheer.

Georgetown Preps., 7; G. W. Scrubs, 0.

Last Friday the Preps put it on our Scrubs in a hard fought game on their field. Lack of team work and substitutes proved the undoing of our boys. Neither side scored in the first half, but in the second a safety and touchdown were secured by the Blue and Gray outfit. Several of the Scrubs were badly used up in the first half, but there were no substitutes to replace them, and they were forced to continue in the game.

Woman's League.

The Woman's League gave a very pretty social in the College library on the evening of Wednesday, October 24th. The room was beautifully decorated and the feature of the evening was the playing of several jolly games. The League expects to have several more socials during the winter.

The Tigers are developing a lot of team play tricks. One of their new wrinkles is a forward pass from a fake kick, and tried against the scrub it worked like a charm.

Mr. A. H. Zimmerman addressed the George Washington Y. M. C. A. Club last Friday at 12.30 in University Hall. The inconvenience of the hour resulted in a rather small attendance, but those who were present felt well repaid.

Owing to a conflict with the Freshmen dance, the Enosinian Debating Society will meet on Thursday, November 1, instead of Friday, November 2.

The "Silence" signs posted in the library remained up just one day.

At a meeting of the Junior dance committee it was decided to recommend that the dance be held some time during or shortly after the Christmas holidays. A class meeting will be called shortly to settle on the exact date.

A meeting of the Sophomore Class was held Friday, October 26, at 6.30. The question of the date of the dance was considered, but no definite decision was reached.

French Club.

On Tuesday, October 23, about twenty of the alumni and students of the University met in Room 1 of the College and organized a club for the study of the French language and history. The following officers were elected: President, Professor Henning; Vice-President, Mr. Keith; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss McCleary. After the election, Mr. Keith gave an interesting talk on Paris, illustrated by a number of remarkably fine views.

The primary object of the club is to give its members practice in speaking French, something which is impracticable in the regular class work. All students in the University are eligible for membership, whether they are taking courses in French or not. There are no dues or initiation fees. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, November 13, in Room 1.

Faculty.

Dr. Charles E. Munroe, head professor of chemistry in our University, has been made Superintendent of the Denatured Alcohol Exhibit, which is to be made at the Jamestown Exposition in 1907. We congratulate Dr. Munroe upon his success and feel sure that this will be one of the finest exhibits at the Exposition. The problem of making denatured alcohol is one of the most important scientific questions of the day. It affords more field for research work than any other branch of chemistry.

There is another member of our faculty who has done some excellent work toward the solution of this denatured alcohol question. This member is Dr. H. W. Wiley, who is Professor of Agricultural Chemistry in our University. Dr. Wiley was one of the first to discover that alcohol can be made from the corn cobs which are one of the waste products in every corn canning factory. He has also discovered that it can be made from the corn husks and stalks. The University is honored in having such men in her faculty.

To G. W. U.

A toast to thee, oh, halls of learning,
To thee from the depths of our hearts' great yearning,
From minds where ambition's flames are burning,
From earnest sons of toil.

Scant glory to thy name are we bringing.

But what time have we to spend in singing

Thy songs,—thy worth to the world flinging.

We laborers of the soil.

'Tis true, thou art the reincarnation
Of the hopes of the founder of this nation—

Thy name itself is an inspiration
To high and low degree.

But want on our shoulder leans oppressing—

Not for us was fortune's sweet caressing—

Perchance 'tis a curse, perchance a blessing—

But such it happens to be.

Yet, bear with us a while, uncomplaining,

Thy proper hopes for a day restraining;

For few are the hours still remaining,

As those who remain are few.

But, mark you well, through the years ensuing,

The aims that these crude ones keep pursuing;

Whether they fall, or keep nobly doing

That which you'd have them do.

AMONG THE FRATERNITIES.

Kappa Sigma.

Wednesday evening, the 24th Kappa Sigma House, 2021 H St., N. W., was the scene of an enthusiastic gathering. Many prominent alumni of the fraternity braved the inclement weather to mingle with their brothers and assist in an election of officers of the alumni chapter for the ensuing year, the election resulting as follows: Dr. Henry D. Fry, President; William M. Hallam, Secretary; M. Preston Evans, Treasurer; John F. Brownlow, delegate to the active chapter.

At the dinner which followed Dr. Fry, as toastmaster, made an interesting and entertaining address and responses were made by Charles W. Holmes, Prof. A. F. W. Schmidt, B. M. Doyle, William M. Hallam, Lawrence Hufty, D. Weimer Reinohl, A. Lester Tracy, Henry T. Bright, J. E. Powell, S. Cliff Carnes, John F. Brownlow and M. Preston Evans.

This dinner was the initial monthly spread of the fraternity and was in every way a success.

Song and good cheer brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Delta Upsilon held its annual convention at Middlebury, Vt., last week, Oct. 25, 26 and 27. Kappa Sigma Pi, of our University, petitioned Delta Upsilon at this convention. Mr. Clarence P. Wilson was chosen to represent Kappa Sigma Pi, and he presented the petition to Delta Upsilon. Following the usual conservative custom of Delta Upsilon action on the petition was deferred until another convention.

Delta Tau Delta entertained at a smoker Saturday evening, October 20th, at their new house. One who was present sums up the pleasure of the evening into "a general good time."

Lambda Chapter, Phi Sigma Kappa, held a smoker, the third of the school year, at its house, 2002 G Street, N. W., Saturday evening, the 27th.

Kappa Alpha gave an elaborate smoker to members of the Freshman class Saturday night.

Local Phi Delta Thetas are busy preparing for the annual convention of the fraternity.

Pi Beta Phi.

On Friday evening, October 26th, the Columbia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi gave a reception for Miss Jackson, the president of Alpha Province, at the home of Miss McCoy.

Personal.

Invitations have been sent out for the marriage of Miss Josephine Shallenburger and the Rev. Paul Sperry, an alumnus of the Chi Deuteron Charge of Theta Delta Chi. The date of the wedding is November 7th.

Miss Elsie Turner is teaching Latin and English at Western High School this year. Miss Turner has been transferred from Central High School, where she taught last year.

Miss Anna Droop and Miss Winifred Munroe, alumnae of Phi Alpha Chapter of Chi Omega have recently returned home from an extended tour abroad, and are taking an active part in fraternity work.

Miss Ellen Dunwoody, of Phi Alpha Chapter, Chi Omega, is spending the winter in Canada, where she is attending a French school.

There is hardly a team in the country that is satisfied with its defense. Either the systems are wrong or the men fail in the execution.

College News.

Georgetown and Virginia have resumed athletic relations, and negotiations are under way for a foot ball game which will probably be played on Georgetown Field, November 10. They have exchanged eligibility codes which are to govern the teams.

Virginia has a bunch of fifty men on the foot ball field.

Carlisle Indians and Villanova played the first real game under the new rules last week, the former winning by a score of 6 to 0. The many experts who were on the side lines regarded the game unfavorably, but the spectators seemed to enjoy it more than the old game.

Martin J. Sheridan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, on Saturday broke the world's record in throwing the discus with a new mark of 138 feet 3 inches. His former record was 135 feet 5 inches.

—Dr. S. H. Frazier, of Berkeley, has invented a new language called "Trinita," in which there are no words significant of anger, ill will, or other unpleasant emotion. Dr. Frazier has given years to the new language, which is a combination of Latin, Greek and Anglo-Saxon.

Canoe Club.

The Canoe Club in our University is one of the leading clubs in this country. It has won places in every canoe regatta that has been held in this locality. But, as all other summer athletic sports of any University, it is handicapped as most of their members are away on vacation.

The Club is to be congratulated on the excellent work they did in the last canoe regatta which was held September 22 last.

Mr. Edgar Hough and Miss Smith won second place in the mixed tandem, which was a very close race.

Although our boys did not win places in any of the remaining events, they crossed the line so close to the winners that it was with difficulty the judges gave their decisions.

Important Changes in 1906 Football Rules.

The length of the game has been shortened ten minutes, each half being 30 minutes instead of thirty-five minutes long.

Each captain may have time taken out three times during each half without penalty. Each time thereafter the side asking for time shall be penalized by the loss of two yards unless the player is removed from the game.

No line man can be dropped back of the line to help carry the ball through the line; he can drop back five yards in order to punt, only.

The rule concerning the forward pass is as follows: one forward pass shall be allowed in each scrimmage provided such pass be made by a player who was behind the line of scrimmage when the ball was put in play, and provided the ball after being passed forward, does not touch the ground before being touched by a player of either side.

College News.

Following is the question submitted by Harvard for the Yale-Harvard debate to be held in Cambridge on December 7:

"Resolved, That further restriction of immigration is undesirable." By "further restriction" is meant the application of additional tests with the object of diminishing materially the number of immigrants. But the nature and practicability of such tests are not to be discussed. Yale will announce her choice of sides within twelve days.

Bullock, Dartmouth's negro half back, has reported after being held out of practice since the beginning of the season on account of conditions in his class work.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Virginia Harned in "The Love Letter."

Virginia Harned in "The Love Letter," an adaptation by Ferdinand Gottschalk from Victorien Sardou's "La Piste," is the attraction at the Belasco next week.

The play was produced in New York city three weeks ago at the Lyric Theater and proved a typical French farce. The critics agreed next day that Miss Harned had not played so charmingly for years.

"The Student King."

In the forthcoming production by Henry W. Savage of "The Student King," at the Columbia Theater next week, when the Savage Opera Company will appear in "The Student King," the latest musical achievement of Reginald De Koven, libretto by Frederic Ranken and Stanislaus Stange, the audiences will enjoy the most tuneful music, a story well within the range of probability, a bright libretto, a fine cast, good singers and actors, pretty girls, and stage business originated by George Marion, the cleverest manipulator of operatic ensembles for the latest production of genuine "comic opera."

"The Belle of Mayfair."

A decided novelty of the present season will be the engagement next week at the National Theater of the latest English musical comedy, "The Belle of Mayfair," by Leslie Stuart, author of the most successful musical play ever done in America, "Florodora."

"It's Up To You, William."

Charles H. Evans, of "Parlor Match" fame, with his own comedy company in "It's Up To You, William," will be the feature around which all the other novelties will revolve at Chase's next week. The week will also mark the professional debut of Miss Sadie Julia Gompers, the talented daughter of Mr. Samuel Gompers, the head of the American Federation of Labor.

"Twirly Whirly."

Weber and Fields' last and most successful production "Twirly Whirly," is to be the attraction at the Majestic next week. Of the piece itself, little need be said. It enjoyed one of the longest runs ever scored in New York by any musical comedy, and coming at the close of the Weber and Fields partnership marked the most artistic production ever gotten together by these two famous comedians.

(4.) Any appointee to a scholarship must be resident in the University during the whole session for which the scholarship is awarded, and must give his whole time and attention during such session to the work for which he is registered.

Graduate Studies.

There is one duty that the Faculty of Graduate Studies has neglected to perform. That is to offer congratulations to a few of their members who were so fortunate this last summer in regard to matrimony. The two whom we have specially in mind are Mr. W. W. Sniffin and Mr. Stephen Krawer. If there are any whom we have overlooked, please let us know and we will give you a worthy mention.

Harvard's determination to win from Yale this year, if it is within her power, is shown by the fact that Oliver F. Cutts will cross the continent to help coach the Crimson players.
